Yoshon.com Fundraiser Update

March 20, 2022 – The New Official Yoshon.com App Fundraiser is Live!

B”H, we have reached the required goal already for being able to cover development costs, and ultimately upload the finished app to the app stores!!! Thank you everyone who has donated so far!

Any additional funds will go to lowering the published app’s price. The date of availability of the app is yet to be determined, as we still have the Apple/Google approvals to go through. We will keep everyone posted.

I wanted to add a note addressing a trend I have been seeing on the fund raiser:

When you donate and choose “Opt Out” of email, we will not know where to send the tax deduction letter.

If you would like to send your email address privately, you can email us at info@yoshonnetwork.org with your information (name, donation amount, and email) so that we can send you your tax deduction letter. Otherwise, you won’t be able to prove that you have a tax deduction!

I may have to get the donation letters out in April, so please be patient, they are all on file. (They will not be deductible until next tax season anyway.)

Thank you all!
