

GENERAL YOSHON NEWS

Chodesh Tov!

This month has seen quite a rollercoaster ride in terms of flour and wheat cereal status changes.

First, some items were reported to us as being yoshon. That was revoked, and then they were given a cutoff date. Finally, some flours were confirmed as being yoshon. This year has been unusual to say the least! During a normal year, once the cutoff date is established, it usually stays the same.

With all of the goings-ons, we again had to update our lists, which are presented below in the Updates section.

January 18, 2023 – AmazonSmile Is Being Discontinued

On Wednesday, we received the sad news that Amazon is no longer going to support its AmazonSmile donations to charities. As of February 20th, they will no longer be supporting it, so we ask that if you are planning to buy anything from Amazon before then, please consider using AmazonSmile with The Yoshon Network Inc. as a recipient. All donations help to keep Yoshon.com functioning. As a reminder, TYNI is a volunteer-only 501 (c)(3) tax deductible charity, without ads or any other kind of revenue. (App purchases go solely for upkeep of the App, NOT to TYNI or Yoshon.com.)

If anyone would like to purchase items through AmazonSmile this final month, please use this link and choose “The Yoshon Network Inc.”: <https://smile.amazon.com/ch/47-1603206> . We thank all those so very much, who have helped us by using this service since May of 2017.

We will continue to have donations accessible through PayPal on our homepage, or at the bottom of each newsletter or alert. Click here to donate to The Yoshon Network Inc.

January 18, 2023 – Target’s Yoshon Flour is Back– from the “NT” Mill!

After it was announced that Target’s All-Purpose flours were no longer yoshon, it was later discovered that one mill, the “NT” plant, still supplied yoshon flour, (except for the malt of course). So again, the Target Good & Gather and Market Pantry All-Purpose flours (with an “NT” in the code only) are added back into our site with their respective Malt dates.

January 8, 2023 – Update on Malt-O-Meal Wheat Cereals

On December 21st, it was brought to our attention that two puffed wheat cereals that had normally been made with winter wheat from Malt-O-Meal and Post, were no longer yoshon. These were to go by the general date for wheat.

In early January, we were informed that Malt-O-Meal’s hot wheat cereals now had a slightly later wheat date than the normal cutoff. The new packing date cutoff for Malt-O-Meal wheat cereals such as hot farina, is now at September 30, 2022, instead of the general wheat date of August 18, 2022. It was confirmed that all of Malt-O-Meal’s wheat cereals would go by this newer packing date of September date.

January 12, 2023 - Montreal Kosher Yoshon Alert on Mimimelon

“Dear Consumers,

This is to advise the public that due to a food distributor error all Mimimelon productions this week only are not Yoshon. This includes Mimimelon products sold in other stores and establishments. As of next week January 12, 2023 all new production will once again be certified Yoshon. Corrective measures have been taken, we thank Mimimelon and the food distributor for their cooperation.

Good Shabbos,

MK YOSHON DEPARTMENT”
